3.0 Compliance Procedures

How the Regulated Entity deals with:

3.1 Pre-publications guidance under regulation 4.5

Where required, editors and journalists seek advice from IPSO in advance of publishing articles to consider matters of compliance with the Editor's Code. This advice is then considered alongside editorial guidance and the public interest when refining and publishing any articles.

3.2 Verification of stories

Journalists and Editors take all appropriate steps to confirm stories. Journalists provide lists of sources and contacts for all verifiable facts and quotes within features, which are then double-checked and confirmed with the primary sources. All commissioned content is also checked with an external legal expert before publication.

3.3 Compliance with the Editor's Code

Copies of the Editor's Code are available to all journalists.

Where the Regulator finds against a publication in the course of assessing a complaint, the publication complies with the findings and any remedial action required.

3.4 Editorial Complaints, Determined under Regulation 19

Reader's Digest has a standard complaints procedure. Members of the public can register and editorial complaint under this procedure by contacting Customer Services, or by submitting a complaint in writing to the company address.

Complaints received or referred from IPSO are assessed by the responsible person, who will seek to resolve the matter with the complainant. Complaints that fall outside the procedure, i.e. are not editorial complaints, are referred to the relevant department/person.

Where the Regulator finds against a publication when determining a complaint under Regulation 19, the publication complies with the findings and any remedial action required by the Regulator.

3.5 Training of Staff

When required, Reader's Digest arranges staff training sessions to update staff on regulatory changes. New joiners are supplied with a staff handbook and copy of the Editor's Code.
