

IPSO Annual Report

Period covered: 1st January 2019 to 31st December 2019

1. Factual information about the Regulated Entity

1.1. The Regulated Entity and titles published by the Regulated Entity

The Regulated Entity is the Immediate Media Company group, which includes two companies responsible for publishing magazines, digital editions of magazines, websites and allied products. Those companies are:

- Immediate Media Company Bristol Limited; and
- Immediate Media Company London Limited.

Please see the appendix.

1.2. Responsible Person

The Regulated Entity's responsible person is Katherine Conlon, Director of Legal Affairs. During late 2019 when Ms Conlon was away from the office on maternity leave, her responsibilities passed to Nicola Taylor, Acting Head of Legal Affairs at Immediate Media Company.

1.3. Overview of the nature of the Regulated Entity

The Regulated Entity is a special interest content and platform business. Its wholly-owned brands include Radio Times, olive, BBC Good Food, Cycling Plus, Gardens Illustrated and Mollie Makes.

It also publishes BBC Top Gear magazine on behalf of BBC Studios, and a number of other titles (including BBC History, BBC Gardeners' World and the CBeebies portfolio) under licence from BBC Studios.

The Regulated Entity also has a thriving branded content and customer publishing business, and is responsible for providing varied publishing services in relation to the magazines of many third parties, including the Scouts Association and English Heritage. Where the Regulated Entity provides editorial services to such titles, they have been listed in the appendix.

2. Internal guidance on editorial compliance

The following guides and codes of practice are made available to all staff on the Regulated Entity's intranet:

- the IPSO Editors' Code;
- the Regulated Entity's own Legal Handbook and other advice notes;
- the BBC's Editorial Guidelines (the BBC titles published by the Regulated Entity are subject to these Guidelines in addition to the Regulated Entity's own guidance and the IPSO Editors' Code);
- training materials on media law and ethics; and
- the National Union of Journalists' Code of Conduct.

3. Compliance Procedures

Our editorial teams are trained in all aspects of media law and regulation. Many of our journalists have graduate or post-graduate qualifications in journalism and allied subjects.

The Regulated Entity's Legal team delivers bespoke training on a regular basis. These sessions are open to all staff, although new joiners are targeted specifically.

Journalists and editors take all necessary steps to verify stories. The Regulated Entity's business is founded on the longstanding trust of its readers and so accuracy and authority are at the heart of our journalism.

Editorial staff on all brands aim to identity potential legal and regulatory issues in editorial copy, and are accustomed to submitting such copy to the in-house Legal team for pre-publication advice. The Legal and editorial teams work together to ensure that potential issues are resolved in good time prior to publication.

Where necessary, the Regulated Entity will take specific pre-publication advice from one of our panel of law firms. The Regulated Entity has not yet sought pre-publication advice from IPSO. We are grateful that this option is available and will use it if and when necessary.

3.1. Compliance with the Editors' Code

Links to the Editors' Code are provided for all editorial staff through the Regulated Entity's intranet. Changes to the Code are notified to editorial staff by the in-house Legal team using email, and other internal communications, as they are made. A summary of the key amendments to the Editors' Code (effective from 1 July 2019) and links to updated IPSO resources was circulated to all editorial staff in July 2019.

Compliance is reviewed on a monthly basis and material issues arising are raised at the monthly board meeting of our Chairman, CEO, CFO and directors.

3.2. Adverse adjudications

There were no adverse adjudications made against the Regulated Entity in 2019.

3.3. Training of staff

The in-house Legal team provides training to all new and returning staff at their point of entry into the business.

New joiners attend legal induction training sessions which include relevant aspects of media law and an introduction to the work of IPSO. This session also highlights the tools and resources available to them on the Regulated Entity's intranet. This initial training covers many aspects of law and regulation and is intended to ensure that all staff understand the importance of compliance and know where within the organisation they can seek help, advice or further training.

The Regulated Entity's HR team works with the Legal team and senior editorial staff to identify groups of staff who require more in-depth training on any given issue. Within the organisation, this could include training on the legal compliance of advertisement content, the marketing of financial products, editorial compliance and so on.

The in-house Legal team regularly runs open-invitation training sessions on media law, competition law, advertising and other areas of law and regulation, across all offices. IPSO's role and work forms a fundamental part of this training and is discussed at every media law training session.

Those editorial staff who work on BBC-branded titles are required to undertake additional online training to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of the BBC Editorial Guidelines, as and when requested to do so by BBC Studios or the BBC.

4. Adverse adjudications during previous years
